

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

The St. Demetrios Greek Festival Returns in 2022

SEATTLE – A tradition since 1960, the St. Demetrios Greek Festival makes its return after two years, taking place October 7, 8 and 9 at St. Demetrios Greek Orthodox Church in Seattle's Montlake neighborhood.

Traditional Greek food, music, dancing, and culture will be in abundance when the grounds of St. Demetrios Church, located at 2100 Boyer Avenue East, transform into a Greek paradise.

Visitors will have plenty of time to enjoy all that the St. Demetrios Greek Festival offers, with hours of operation from 12-9 p.m. on Friday, October 7; 10 a.m.-9 p.m. on Saturday, October 8; and 11 a.m.-6 p.m. on Sunday, October 9. The St. Demetrios Greek Festival also offers free admission and free parking/shuttle options for attendees. Check our website for up-to-date shuttle information from the University of Washington Light Rail Station and Seattle Prep School. Bike racks will also be available all weekend for visitors to use.

This year's menu of traditional Greek food will focus on the favorites, including but not limited to gyros, souvlaki, lamb, roasted chicken, spanakopita and more. Additionally, we'll have a selection of homemade Greek sweets and pastries prepared by members of St. Demetrios. These treats make the perfect accompaniment to a cup of traditional Greek coffee or your favorite espresso drink, which you can also get at this year's festival.

Greek wine tasting will be available all weekend, and Greek beer and wine will also be served in our Taverna bar. The Taverna will feature big screen TVs showing all the weekend's major sporting events. Rain or shine, under the large tents at the St. Demetrios Greek Festival will be THE place to cheer on your favorite local team.

The award-winning St. Demetrios Greek dance groups and live Greek music will entertain visitors on the main stage throughout the weekend. Families can head to the children's area, which will have activities and games ideal for our youngest guests. Visitors can also take tours of the church if they wish to view St. Demetrios' beautiful sanctuary and learn more about the Orthodox faith.

The St. Demetrios Greek Festival is staffed by volunteers from the St. Demetrios community, with all proceeds going towards St. Demetrios' ministries and community outreach. For more information, please visit: www.SeattleGreekFestival.com and follow us on Facebook and Instagram for up-to-the-minute news and updates.

###

Press Contact: Katherine Dikeakos | Phone: \(206\) 349-8342349-8342) | Email: festival@saintdemetrios.com
St. Demetrios Greek Orthodox Church | 2100 Boyer Avenue East | Seattle, WA 98112